

FAMILY PHOTOJOURNALIST CLASS

A great travel story should capture the feel, it should remind you of how it felt to be there: to see, hear, touch, taste and feel everything and all the wonder. But most of us don't know where to begin and we end up just snapping random photos that end up in an album we never open (or worse, in a folder lost forever on our computer).

What if I told you that you can do better, and you don't even need a fancy camera? Visual storytelling is within everyone's reach - all you need is your smartphone and some new mental tools. I can show you how!

In this 90-minute class we will explore the foundations of capturing images that tell your stories well, whether it's your vacations, a hobby, a special life event, or just your ordinary every-day life. You'll walk away with the skills to elevate your photography so you'll be excited to look back at your photos for many years to come.

$75/person or $125 for couples; notes available as a PDF download upon completion of class
